Carlo Enrico Traverso, MD
Professor of Ophthalmology (2010-2024) University of Genoa
Contract Professor (2025-2026) Ophthalmology Residency Program and Orthoptics Degree Program University of Genoa
Director, U.O.C. Oculistica Clinic (2009-2024) Ospedale Policlinico San Martino and Ophthalmology Residency Program University of Genoa, Italy
The Oculistica Clinic is a European Commission-certified EIP AHA reference site and a member of the European network for rare ophthalmic diseases ERN EYE.
President Alliance of European Ophthalmological Scientific Societies EUEYE (www.eueye.org)
Chairman European Glaucoma Society (EGS Foundation)
Medical Director (2001-2024) Fondazione Banca degli Occhi Melvin Jones – Genova
Board Member Fondazione Istituto David Chiossone, Genova
International Experience:

- Fellowship, Wills Eye Hospital of Philadelphia (2 years)

- Senior Staff, King Khaled Eye Specialist Hospital of Riyadh, KSA (3.5 years)

Awards and Honors:

- Award from the Italian Ophthalmological Society for Clinical Research

- AIRCMO Award for Research in Ophthalmology on Corneal Stem Cells

- "Honor Award" and "Senior Achievement Award," American Academy of Ophthalmology

- "Silver Fellowship," ARVO

Membership:

- American Ophthalmological Society (since 2017), SISO, American Academy of Ophthalmology, European Glaucoma Society

Main Activities:

- Clinical and academic focus on the anterior segment of the eye: cataract surgery, glaucoma, cornea, and refractive surgery.

Research Focus:

- Fundamental work on corneal cell therapy/stem cell transplantation, including first publications demonstrating the principle in ophthalmology and clinical application in humans (published in The Lancet). Extensive contributions in the field of Glaucoma

Current Clinical Practice:

- Private practice at Casa della Salute in Genoa and Savona

Scientometric Indices (Google Scholar – 08/28/2025):

- Citations: 10943 (Total), 5502 (Since 2020)

- H-index: 52 (Total), 38 (Since 2020)

- i10-index: 175 (Total), 123 (Since 2020