CURRICULUM VITAE:

In 1987, he graduated (110/110) in Law from the University of Genoa on July 6, with a thesis in "History of Italian Law" (supervisor: Prof. Rodolfo Savelli). He began collaborating in the teaching activities of the Institute of Legal History. The following year, he was admitted to the PhD program in "History of Italian Law with particular reference to the history of medieval law and common law," IV cycle (consortium of the Universities of Milan, Bologna, Catania, Turin, Siena).

In 1990, he qualified as a Legal Prosecutor at the Court of Appeal of Genoa, and subsequently registered with the Bar Association of the Court of Genoa. From 1996 to 2016, he was listed in the special register of full-time university professors, until he requested to be removed.

In 1992, he obtained a PhD in Legal History and was awarded a two-year research fellowship (1992-1993) at the Luigi Firpo Foundation for the History of Political Thought in Turin. He was later admitted to the two-year post-doctoral research cycle in Legal Sciences at the University of Genoa (1994-1995). In 1996, he received funding from the Einaudi Foundation in Turin to continue his research on the history of Italian legal culture at the beginning of the 19th century.

In the same year, he won the competition for University Researcher (disciplinary scientific sector N19X - History of Italian Law) at the Faculty of Political Sciences, University of Sassari, starting service on February 27, affiliated with the Department of History and contributing to the teaching of "History of Italian Law" and "History of Modern and Contemporary Codifications and Constitutions" (Prof. Mario Da Passano).

In 1998, he began service as a researcher at the Faculty of Law, University of Genoa, starting teaching activities within DI.GI.TA. – Giovanni Tarello Department of Legal Culture, teaching "History of Italian Law."

In 2000, he was successful in the comparative evaluation for a tenured Associate Professor position (sector N19X History of Italian Law) at the University of Sassari. In 2001, the Faculty of Law at the University of Genoa appointed him as Associate Professor for the same sector. He taught "History of Medieval and Modern Law" and "Medieval and Modern Institutions" and began teaching cycles on "History and Techniques of Modern Codification" at the University of Trieste.

In 2003, he qualified for a Full Professor position at the Faculty of Law, University of Modena and Reggio Emilia. He was among the promoters of the inter-university PhD program in Legal Sciences at the University of Milan-Bicocca (curriculum in Private Law and History of Civil Legal Science), serving on the Academic Board.

From 2004 to 2012, he taught "History of Medieval and Modern Law" at the Faculty of Law in Trieste. At UNIGE, he has taught "History of Constitutions and Modern Codifications" (to present). At the Imperia campus, he taught "History of European Legal Culture" (until 2009).

In 2005, still within the same scientific sector, he became Full Professor at the Faculty of Law in Genoa. From 2006 to 2009, he taught "History of Modern Codifications and Constitutions" at the University of Trieste.

In 2008, he was appointed Director of the Library of the Imperia branch (until January 2014), where since 2009 he has also taught "History of Constitutions and Modern Codifications," and since 2013 "History of Medieval and Modern Law." From 2013 to 2014, he was appointed by the Dean of the School of Social Sciences to design the bachelor's degree in "Tourism Sciences," later launched within the Department of Economics.

Within the framework of the agreement with the Liguria Region for the Regional Observatory on Organized Crime and Transparency in Public Administration, he organized the Legality Lectures (2013-2016); he was senior member of the Scientific-Technical Committee of the School of Social Sciences Library (2013-2017).

In 2014, he was appointed by the Mayor of Genoa, Marco Doria, to the Consiglio di indirizzo of Fondazione CARIGE (Cassa di risparmio di Genova e Imperia). In the same year, he was appointed Rector's Delegate (Prof. Paolo Comanducci) for the Imperia university campus and Vice Director of the Department of Law.

In 2015, he co-founded and co-directed with Prof. Elio Tavilla (University of Modena and Reggio Emilia) the legal history series "Futuro anteriore" (Giappichelli ed., Turin); he was appointed by the Rector as member of the Liguria Region's Legality Committee (Art. 15, Regional Law March 5, 2012, No. 7); the following year, he was also appointed by the Rector to the Consiglio di indirizzo della Fondazione CARIGE (until 2024).

From January 2016 to January 2020, he served on the Board of Directors of the Scuola superiore della magistratura, appointed by the Minister of Justice, Andrea Orlando. Until 2018, he taught the course "History of Criminal Law and Criminality."

In May 2018, he was elected Director of the Department of Law at the University of Genoa for the academic term 2018/2021. He resigned from his role as Rector's Delegate for the Imperia campus and was admitted as a Corresponding Member of Accademia ligure di scienze e lettere

In November 2019 (until April 15, 2025), he became a Member of the Consiglio giudiziario presso la Corte di appello di Genova (appointed by CUN).

In 2021, he was re-elected Director of the Department of Law at the University of Genoa for the 2021/2024 term but resigned on May 9, 2022.

In 2022, he was elected President of the Association of Historians of Medieval and Modern Law – ASDIMM Associazione italiana degli storici del diritto medievale e moderno.
