

Roberto Garelli

Associate Professor

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

1989

Degree in Economics and Business Studies
University of Genoa

PROFESSIONAL HISTORY

2012 - Ongoing

Associate Professor in Business Administration
University of Genoa

1995 - 2012

Assistant Professor in Business Administration
University of Genoa

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

2018 - Ongoing

Present Member of the Joint Committee on Teaching and Student Rights

EXPERIENCE

Member of the Italian Academy of Business Economics (AIDEA)

Member of the Italian Society of Accounting and Business Economics (SIDREA)

TEACHING ACTIVITY

Currently teaches General Accounting, Transport management Supervision, Planning and control of logistics in the maritime port, and Cost Analysis and Planning. Previously also holder of the teachings of Financial Statement Analysis for Economic and Financial Performance and Cost analysis and Accounting. Additional teaching activities include first and second level master's degrees and professional training courses.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

The scientific research activities focus on the evolution of information, accounting, planning and performance analysis in companies, as well as the economic and business aspects of transport companies, particularly those involved in maritime transport. Research also focuses on smart cities and their reporting systems. These topics have been covered in monographs, essays and articles published in scientific and professional journals, as well as in reports presented at conferences and seminars.