

CURRICULUM VITAE OF DR. ALBERTO CASELLI LAPESCHI,

Confirmed Researcher in Criminal Procedural Law and Contract Professor at the University of Genoa, Supreme Court Lawyer in Genoa.

- Born in Genoa on April 28, 1964, and residing in Chiavari (GE).
- Currently serving as a Confirmed Researcher in Criminal Procedural Law (IUS 16), as well as a Contract Professor, at the Department of Law of the University of Genoa.
- Graduated in Law from the Faculty of Law of the University of Genoa on October 16, 1990, with a score of 110 cum laude with publication honors.
- Volunteer assistant at the Chair of Criminal Procedure since February 1991.
- Winner, in November 1992, of the competition for titles and exams for admission to the VIII Cycle of the PhD in Law and Criminal Procedure (Academic Years 1992/93–1993/94–1994/95).
- PhD, with the title obtained at the University of Florence, in April 1997.
- Winner, in February 1995, of the competition for titles and exams for a position as University Researcher in Criminal Procedural Law at the Faculty of Law of the University of Genoa.
- Employed in this capacity in July 1995.
- Confirmed in the role in June 1999.
- Qualified, as the first in the District of the Court of Appeal of Genoa, to practice as a Lawyer in October 1998.
- Registered with the Bar of Chiavari since December 1998, with an office in Genoa, via Corsica 19/5.
- Appointed, starting from the academic year 2002/03, for the Criminal Law Module, within the course “Law and Criminal Procedure I,” Degree in Social Work, Faculty of Law of Genoa.
- Appointed, starting from the academic year 2009/10, as the holder of Module II in the “Law and Criminal Procedure” course, Department of Law of Genoa.
- Has taught courses in Criminal Law and Procedure, including those under the old system, as well as refresher courses for lawyers, judges, executives, teachers of high schools, and in university master's programs.
- Since the academic year 1999/00, he regularly teaches Criminal Procedure to medical specialists in Forensic Medicine.
- He has been in charge, since the academic year 2006/07, of the “Criminal Procedural Law” Module within the Degree Course in “Prevention Technician and Workplace Hygiene,” at the Faculty of Medicine and Surgery of the University of Genoa.

- Since 1992, as part of his study and research activities, he has published articles and notes on judgments in major legal journals such as: “Constitutional Jurisprudence,” “Italian Jurisprudence,” “Criminal Cassation,” “Criminal Legislation,” “Criminal Law and Procedure,” “Legal Policy,” “Criminal Critique,” and “Criminal System.”

Genoa, 17.7.2025

Alberto CASELLI LAPESCHI