RESEARCH STATEMENT	I am a diligent, critical thinker, and highly proficient across multiple disciplines. Since I was young, I have been thinking outside the box: that's why I show genuine enthusiasm for research. During my Ph.D. studies I further fostered my interdisciplinary background, enhanced my passion for academic work and enriched my team building skills. My research interests deal with the relationship between law and language, as a timeless bridge for communication, reflecting a historical movement and evolution across the centuries. Moreover, I feel extremely grateful for having been given the opportunity to teach students of all ages and backgrounds these past years. This aspect has improved my empathy, my organizational skills, and problem-solving attitude. Research and education are my lifelong goals and mission and I am determined to do my best in the pursuit of accuracy and knowledge. I am dedicated to bettering myself.
