Research interests

My main research projects contend with questions about the norms of political rhetoric, democratic theory and practice, pluralism and the right to have a say, and labour migration policy in Africa.

I also have side projects on BRICS and South-South Cooperation (with Valeria Lauria), political progress (with Enrico Biale), and territorial rights and migration.

My work has appeared in journals such as Biblioteca della Libertà, the European Journal of Political Theory, Ethical Theory and Moral Practice, Philosophy and Social Criticism, Political Theory, Political Studies, Rivista Italiana di Filosofia Politica, Rivista di Filosofia, Representation, Social Epistemology, and Social Theory and Practice.

Assignments abroad

I am the recipient of a Fulbright Research Scholarship (2019-2020), Hoover Fellowship (2020, postponed), and Leric Foundation Fellowship (2023). I am an associate member of the African Centre for Epistemology and Philosophy of Science. I held visiting positions at the Political Science Department of Brown University, the Centre for the Study of Developing Societies in New Delhi, and the Cluster of Excellence 'Normative Orders' of Goethe University. In Spring 2023, I will be a visiting fellow at the Department of Government of Uppsala University.

I have also cooperated with international organizations and UN agencies working on migration policy, such as the offices of the International Organization for Migration in China, Ethiopia, and The Gambia. I am a cofounder of A-id: Agenda for International Development.
